May 21st at Bear Wallow: Lots of Winners

We had a great turnout for the Score-0 meet at Bear Wallow on May 21st. The weather was beautiful and fifty-seven people came out to experience the challenging course set by Dale Cole. Congratulations to John Little who went for broke on the intermediate course and got every possible control with five seconds to spare! Several participants reported spectacular falls from the slippery hillsides. Unfortunately, we can't award extra style points for your stunt work! Meet director Marilyn Cleavinger would like to thank everyone who helped at the meet, especially Bill Hamilton, Tim Fahlberg, Kelly Cook, Wendy Bastron, Rachel Gelbin, Dan Cobbledick, Ellen Sweet, Mark Parsons, and John Little.

June meet to be the 18th at Bear Wallow

Deja vu at Bear Wallow! We will be returning to the scene of last month's meet to enjoy a course set by John Maier. This will be a free-style or cross-country (or, as I think of it, regular) meet. For this type of meet, the course planner picks out a sequence of points which are to be visited in order. Participants start one by one, in a timed sequence, so that each orienteer is on her/his own with map, compass, and terrain. The points visited are chosen so that each leg presents good navigational problems. These must be solved in order for the orienteer to make the trip efficiently, without extended wandering around. The recreational orienteer wants simply to find the correct points, while the competitive orienteer wants to solve the problems quickly - on the run, since that goal is to cover the course in the minimum time. (Description courtesy of ONA)

How to get there: From Tucson, take the Catalina Highway up Mount Lemmon 1/2 mile past milepost 22 to a dirt road on the right. Follow this road about 1/2 mile to the sharp curve and parking area.

Terrain: Mature pine forest in a steep area around 8000 feet elevation. The main off-trail obstacle is getting traction on the pine needles.

Map: Scale 1:10,000

Courses: Beginner, intermediate, and advanced courses can be run competitively or recreationally (untimed). Start times are between 9:30AM and noon with the course closing at 2PM. Beginner's clinics available on request.

Entry fees: Individuals $4. Teams $6. $1 discount for club members.

Course Setting Class

One of the things that really helps one's orienteering abilities is learning how to set courses. Naturally it helps the club as well! But for the setter, it is an interesting and engrossing challenge. I'd like to teach anyone who's interested in learning course setting. The tentative plan is to have an evening meeting to go over the basics, then to work with a map in the field after the June 18 meet at Bear Wallow. We can discuss further possibilities at the meeting. We will meet June 13 at 7:30 PM at my house, 1514 E. Kleindale Road. To get there, go on Ft. Lowell 2 blocks W of Campbell (=2 blocks E of Mountain), turn north on Cherry, go two blocks and swing left at the barrier; the house is the second on the left. Other routes get tangled up in the anti-joyrider barriers.

Please let John know you'll be attending by June 9th.
