Shortcutting Greasewood O-Meet, by Mike Thompson, Meet Director, Sunday, April 17, 2011

More than 30 orienteers came out on a warm day to Greasewood Park on Tucson's west side to try the White or Orange courses set by Jim Stamm. He concocted an orange course that you could run at about half the map distance if you managed to find the "shortcut" controls that lay on a line between the marked controls. Several runners found the shortcuts and posted blazing times, with Ludwig Hill posting a best of 35 min, 23 sec. Several other runners finished around the 45 min mark, as you can see in the standings. We had a few groups of ROTC students practicing their land navigation skills as well as strolling and sprinting competitors.

The meet director thanks the volunteers who stepped forward to make the meet work: Valery Thompson (and terriers) and Jim Stamm at Registration, Peg Davis at Beginners' Clinic, Leif Lundquist with Control Retrieval and other duties as needed, and Ludwig Hill for Control Retrieval and other help, and other volunteers who stepped in as needed.
